Kentucky Election Returns.

CHEERING INTELLIGENCE.

Kentucky gives an increased Democratic Majority.

CAPTAIN SIMMS SURELY ELECTED!

From the returns in our paper this morning, we can give our readers the glad intelligence that the Opposition fare no better in Kentucky than did the Know-Nothings.

We have elected the whole Democratic State ticket by about ten thousand majority—a gain on the Buchanan vote.

We have elected seven Democratic Congressmen sure, and claim the eighth.

We have again carried the Ashland District against the most desperate exertions of the Opposition.

We have elected Col. John A. Prall to the State Senate over Brutus J. Clay in Bourbon and Bath.

We have carried the House of Representatives by over twenty, and the Senate by at least six majority.

We have routed the enemy horse, foot, and dragons. Glory enough for one day.

The Congressional Election.

We have sufficient returns to insure the election of the following members of Congress: First district, H. C. Burnett, Democrat. Second district, S. O. Peyton, Democrat. Third district, F. M. Bristow, Opposition. Fifth district, John Young Brown, Democrat.

There is only one district in doubt—the Fourth—and our intelligence from there leads us to believe that Chrisman, the Democratic candidate, will be elected.

Ashland District.

The following are the reported majorities in this district:

Counties.	Simms' maj.	Harlan's maj.
Scott.....	330	..
Harrison.....	394	..
Nicholas.....	276	..
Fayette.....	422	..
Bourbon.....	280	..

Boone County.

WALTON, Boone Co., Aug. 2, 1859.

Mr. Editor: Glory to God in the highest! old Boone is redeemed, as I promised you. I never saw such mental sickness as this morning's sun has brought upon the Know-Nothing leaders. Have you any room in your Lunatic Asylum near Frankfort? My trip to Salt river with them will be somewhat hoisterous. I am using the apirits of harsbarn to keep up their drooping spirits but I doubt much if I can keep life in them until I give them in charge of our Central Committee. It is now six o'clock, A. M., and all of the precincts have been heard from, so far as Chambers and Riddle are concerned, the Senator and Representative, and the following report will not vary a few votes. This is not official. Wait a few days, and you will have the official. Riddle has one hundred and one majority, and Chambers has one hundred and forty. Gallatin and Carroll is yet to hear from. Old Boone was the battle-field, and we have gained the victory. The Know-Nothing majority has always been heretofore from one hundred and fifty to two hundred. Boone is saved, and I am truly yours. R. A. E.

Pendleton County.

FALMOUTH, Ky., Aug. 2, 1859.

Mr. Editor: Thinking that the readers of the Yeoman would like to hear from the "Banner County," I concluded to send you the result of the election. Pendleton has done nobly. Mann, our candidate for Representative, is elected over Smith by 214 majority. Stevenson's majority is about 250, and the State ticket about 240. Grant Green ran ahead of the whole ticket at McKinneysburgh. Revill's majority last year was 180. So, instead of Democratic stock being on the downfall, it is above par in this county, as the result has shown.

Yours truly, H.

Adair County.

COLUMBIA, Monday Night, Aug. 1st '59.

EDITOR YEOMAN: Magoffin and State ticket majority is between 550 and 575. James' majority will be near 600. Chrisman's majority from 540 to 550.

Owens, independent K. N., over Alexander, O. K. N., 125. I had no opposition.

We have never worked so hard and with such good success, making glorious headway against wind and tide and money.

Furrah for Adair Democracy and for Gravens. He is a glorious Democrat.

Yours truly, NAT GAITHER.

N. B.—Report from Taylor, Chrisman's majority 320.

* The vote of these counties for 1856 was excluded from the official canvass on account of informality in the returns, and is not included in this article. (N. 59, 599; Fillmore, 63, 291. Majority for Buchanan, 6, 118.)

The Ascent of the Balloon "Jupiter."

According to announcement, Prof. John Wise and his son Charles (a young man of about twenty-one years) made their balloon ascent yesterday morning from Washington square. The day was quite unfavorable, the heavens being overhung with clouds and the atmosphere unusually dense. At 9 o'clock there was a slight sprinkle of rain, which did not, however, deter the inflation, which at that hour had already commenced. By 10 o'clock the weather appeared less insuperable, and there was some prospect of sunshine.

The balloon is thirty-six feet in diameter, constructed of a peculiar cotton cloth, tightly sewed in segments, and coated over on both sides with a drying varnish. It has a surface of nearly four thousand cubic feet, and is capable of holding twenty thousand cubic feet of carburetted hydrogen or coal gas, having an ascensive power of nearly one thousand pounds.

At a quarter before eleven o'clock, the car (a willow basket about four feet square) having been adjusted to a netting and the concentric hoop, and the two voyagers having taken their places therein all was ready for the launch. The Jupiter was now allowed to rise until the car or basket came immediately above the heads of the crowd, where it was held by means of a rope, one end of which rested in the hand of Prof. Wise, who took advantage of the prominence thus given him to make a few remarks. Prof. W. explained that the present ascension was not made to demonstrate that long voyages could be made, for that had already been proved, but was intended to be instrumental in ascertaining the barometrical heights of the different air-currents, so as to render ballooning more systematic and certain.

At 5 minutes to 11 o'clock he released the rope, and the balloon rose with a dignified and graceful motion, to pursue its course through the latitudes of a shoreless sea.

The barometer at the earth, on starting, indicated nearly 29 1/2 inches, showing the atmosphere to be very humid and dense. For this reason, combined with the unusual height of the air, the flight of the balloon was not rapid, and it was found necessary to discharge the ballast almost immediately. Nevertheless the ascension proved to be a very fine one indeed, giving great delight to every one who beheld it.

The direction taken by the "Jupiter" was northerly, though considerably more northerly than that of the "Atlantic" from this city. We watched it until the car with its inmates was no longer visible.

As has been stated heretofore, it was a part of the design of Prof. Wise to get no further from Lafayette, Ind., than it might be possible to make an ascension from that point this week. It was, indeed, announced that he intended to land within a few miles of that city, which, doubtless, he would like very well to accomplish. It is not improbable, however, that, unless the "Jupiter" reached a height out of the way of the rain, the condensing state of the atmosphere and the additional weight which the water would give to the balloon and netting, may have made a descent necessary long before the State of Illinois had been traversed.—St. Louis Republican.

A Singular Dream.

We take the following account of a singular dream from the Western Christian Advocate:

Mr. B. had been twice married, but was left a second time a widower with six daughters and one son. After these bereavements, Mr. B. indulged the love of not resigning him to the blessing of a wife, and he resolved to sacrifice all personal conveniences and enjoyments of the conjugal relation, and never attempt to select another partner in life. This resolution he sincerely kept for nearly three years, when the arguments and counsel of the minister of the circuit, in the State of Delaware, prevailed on him to change his mind. The consideration of his numerous family of daughters requiring so much of a mother's care and instruction, was one of the strong reasons that had induced him to admit that his resolution might be founded in error. The minister, encouraged by the good impression he had made, and the influence he had gained over Mr. B., took the liberty to name him a lady residing in a certain neighborhood of his wife and a good mother for his children, and appointed the time and place for Mr. B. to meet him and be introduced to her. Some acquaintance took place which prevented Mr. B. from meeting the minister according to appointment.

The minister, intent upon his plan, procured the appointment was made, but an unexpected Providence again prevented Mr. B. from being there at the time. They then made a third arrangement, and Mr. B. determined, if life and health permitted, he would certainly meet his friend, and be made acquainted with the lady recommended. Before the time arrived, however, Mr. B. was admonished in a dream that the one he had selected for his second wife was not the one he ought to marry, and he was conducted in a vision to the residence of the young lady that would be a suitable helpmate, and that Providence designed for him. The distance was sixty miles, and he had only traveled twenty miles in that direction. Yet the map of the whole road was laid before his mind, and the way he should go so distinctly marked in his dream, that he seemed perfectly familiar with all the road. He dreamed the distance, the name of the young woman, and the name of her stepfather, Col. Vickers, the appearance of the house in which he lived, how it was painted; that it was situated near the river, with a warehouse near at hand. He dreamed, also, that there were five young ladies belonging to the same family, and had the one selected for him so accurately described in his dream, that he could easily distinguish her from the other four.

In the morning he awoke and thought nothing of his vision, except as an ordinary, and rather remarkable dream. The next night he had precisely the same vision repeated, and the same things presented to his mind in a still more vivid manner. Mr. B. then began to think that he might be some indication of Providence in his dream; and all that day he made it the subject of sincere and ardent prayer, that God would direct him in the way he should go in a matter so grave, and involving so much interest to himself and his motherless children. That night he had the vision repeated the third time, and he determined then to follow the direction furnished him, and fully test the circumstances of the dream by a practical examination, and see if the results would be developed as he dreamed them. He immediately sent a note to the preacher, informing him that he had changed his mind, and must decline meeting him at the time appointed. Mr. B. started in the direction indicated by his vision, and after passing the twenty miles he was acquainted with, he found himself only guided by the road, and had no difficulty for the map of the road was so vividly impressed upon his mind, that he was able to distinguish his road from all others. The gentleman whose name was given him in his dream he had never seen or heard of. He knew the farm as soon as he saw it. The house and everything about it appeared precisely as they had been presented in his vision.

He alighted from his horse, and entered the beautiful house. The personal appearance of the young lady was so vividly impressed on his mind by the vision three repeated, that he readily recognized her in company of the four others, whom he found in the same family. He soon ascertained the name of the young woman, and found it to be Sarah T., according to his dream. The young lady had determined, and had often said she would never marry a widower. Miss T. said the moment she first saw Mr. B. she felt a strange tremor pass over her whole system. She had a vivid impression that he was a widower, and that he had come to see her. She afterwards confessed that a sudden emotion of affection for him arose in her heart as soon as she came into his presence.

Mr. B. obtained the pleasure of an interview with her that evening, and was successful in securing her consent to visit her again, and address her on the subject of marriage. He, however, did not tell her his dream till she had engaged to become his wife. After a courtship of a few months, they were happily married, and lived together more than fifty years. Mr. B. died the 28th of March, 1842, and Mrs. B. lived till the 7th of April, 1847. For sixty years, perhaps, they were both distinguished and useful members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

A CURIOUS RESURRECTION CASE.—The Columbus Fact:

A curious case occurred last week at Rome, in Franklin county, Ohio. Mrs. Peters, wife of a German of that name, after a short illness, was supposed to have died. Her husband made immediate arrangements for her funeral, having procured a coffin in this city. On placing her body in the coffin, a general perspiration was observed throughout the skin, which was reported by the husband, with the suggestion that the burial be deferred, in the hope of reanimation. To this the husband objected, and had her interred the same day, (Saturday.)

After the burial services were over, some relatives of the supposed deceased, who reside in this city, arrived at Rome to attend the funeral, which had taken place, and hearing of the circumstances, caused the body, which had been four hours in the grave, to be disinterred, when to their surprise and joy, they found signs of life still remaining. Restoratives being administered, Mrs. Peters gradually recovered, was taken by her friends to this city, and is now well. We are informed that she refuses to give live with her husband. The circumstances connected with the affair are strange indeed, and should undergo investigation.

THE WHEAT CROP.—The wheat crop of this country, just harvested, is set down at two hundred and one million of bushels, or about forty millions of barrels, or one and three-fifths of a barrel of flour for every one of the twenty-five millions of individuals in this country. This would not seem to be a great deal more than our own wants would require, and it would not be if we had not the other cereals, and particularly the great crop of Indian corn, to help out the supply. Ohio is given a production of 20,000,000 bushels; Pennsylvania 25,000,000; New York 20,000,000; Illinois 20,000,000. The New England States have decreased in their production of wheat, but the loss has been made up by an increase in the production of land under wheat cultivation this year is thirty-three per cent. greater than in 1855. We frequently hear of a production of thirty-one bushels to the acre, but the actual production per acre does not average two-thirds of that amount.

Couldn't STANLEY THE DOCTORS.—Some years since an old revolutionary soldier, named Benjamin Johnson, of Milford, Mass., was struck by lightning, but not killed. For two days he was insensible, when two doctors were called, who said he would die. Just at that moment his speech came to him, and calling his wife by her name, he said, "I have stood cannon and musket ball, and bayonet, and I can stand thunder and lightning, if the doctors only let me be;" and sure enough he recovered.

THE SLAVES MANUMITTED BY MR. NORTON. of Hindocounty, have reached California, and notwithstanding the direction of his will, their passage to California was paid and one thousand dollars distributed among them, they are already in miserable condition, dissipated, and actually suffering for want of food.—Vicksburg Sun.

Arrival of the Overland Mail.

The overland mail, with San Francisco dates to the 28th inst., arrived last night. The steamer Uncle Sam, from Panama June 21st, which connected with the Northern Light that left New York June 10th, arrived at San Francisco on the 7th.

The Steamer Washington.—In addition to the libel filed against the steamer Washington for supplies furnished at Kingston, Jamaica, the officers and crew—thirty-four in number—yesterday libelled the ship for wages. The various suits amount to about $17,000.—Ibid.

More Chinese Emigrants.—The ship Leonidas arrived yesterday from Hong-Kong with two hundred and fifty Chinese emigrants. There are two or three vessels now due from China.

The Marshal of Benicia "abducted."—Luka Bond, the late Marshal of Benicia, has absconded with over $5,000 public money.

Tin Mine.—An important and most valuable discovery has lately been made in the vicinity of Tennessee, and it is estimated that this city has a tin mine, the ore of which has been assayed, and found to contain 32 per cent. metal.

The latest State News.—Another arrival at Placerville, from Gold Canyon, Carson Valley, confirms the statements regarding the richness of the mines. It is reported that several claims are yielding from $50 to $5,000 per day.

A Dreadful Tragedy.—A colored man named Albert Lee, formerly a servant of Col. Fremont, lost his wife with a pistol in a house on Virginia street, between Jackson and Pacific, inflicting a mortal wound in her head. He then shot himself in the left side, and is believed to be mortally wounded also. The circumstances of the dreadful tragedy are as follows: About three years ago Lee married the daughter of John Vellier, a respectable colored man, by whom he has two children. Lee was dissipated and unkind to his wife, and they did not live happily together. The wife went home to her father's house, and Lee went to the mines. A few days ago he came back, and endeavored to induce his wife to live with him, which she refused. About 2 o'clock to day he entered Mr. Vellier's house, rd, drawing a pistol, he fired at his wife's head, inflicting a wound which is believed to be mortal. The ball entered the left cheek and lodged in the neck. Lee then deliberately shot himself in the left side, the ball lodging in the neck. Neither of the parties died, but there is little hope of their recovery.—Alta, 7th.

A Strange Affair.—Michael McNamara, an industrious mechanic, was arraigned in the Police court yesterday on the charge of John Hogan, who accused him of stealing a watch and chain worth $10. McNamara is a tenant of Hogan's, and Hogan testified that a short time since he saw he accused coming from his premises, and soon after missing his watch and chain. Defendant frequently desired Hogan to search his rooms, but he did so to do so when invited. On the 14th of July the complainant, in presence of witnesses, said to defendant, "You d—d thief, you stole my gold watch." On the 5th, McNamara commenced suit against Hogan for defamation of character, and had the damages at $10,000.—Ib., 8th.

Fatal Stabbing Affair in San Mateo county.—Two neighbors, Geo. F. Wynn and Nathan Sanchez, residing in the Parish of San Mateo county, on Tuesday evening, 28th June, got into a difficulty about some logs, which resulted in the death of Kendrick, who received a stab wound from Wynn with a knife in the region of the breast. The Gazette says that Wynn immediately delivered himself up. The deceased was aged about twenty-eight years, and was formerly from Kentucky. Wynn was only guided by the road, and had no difficulty for the map of the road was so vividly impressed upon his mind, that he was able to distinguish his road from all others. The gentleman whose name was given him in his dream he had never seen or heard of. He knew the farm as soon as he saw it. The house and everything about it appeared precisely as they had been presented in his vision.

Washington Items. WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The State mentions the reception of important private dispatches from Northern Mexico. It was expected that within ninety days, 3,000 American troops will be organized on the Rio Grande and provided armed and equipped for the purpose of marching upon the city of Mexico, and exterminating the whole Miramon faction.

Private advices from Tucson, dated July 16th, mention a hostile meeting between Lieutenant Mowry and Edward E. Cross, editor of the Arizona. Four shots were exchanged without effect, and the last shot, Lieut. Mowry's, did not discharge itself. It was decided to be a fight, and Mr. Cross stood without arms in receive it. Lieut. Mowry refused to fire at an unarmed man and discharged his rifle in the air. Mutual explanations followed, and both parties declared themselves satisfied, and the difficulty was settled.

The Opata Indians were committing great ravages in Northern Sonora—slaughtering the men and ravishing the women. The troops seem to be afraid to attack them. An American citizen of Arizona was in jail, at Magdalena, for no offense, and fears were entertained that he would be murdered.

It is utterly impossible for an American to travel now in Sonora without being massacred, or robbed of everything.

Lieut. Mowry will have no opposition as delegate to Congress.

FIRE ON A RAILROAD TRACK.—The mail train from Cincinnati, due here at one o'clock yesterday, was detained two hours at a point about three miles from Leandria by the burning of immense quantities of dry wood piled along the Little Miami railroad track. The wood piled up on both sides of the road must have been on fire several hours before the train reached it, for the track was so much damaged by the heat that it was found impossible to proceed. In some places a dozen iron rails were raised eighteen inches from the ground, and in other places they were forced from their places by the heat, and had expanded in every direction. About two hundred thousand cords of wood are said to have been consumed by the fire. It is supposed that the wood caught fire from sparks from passing locomotives, but it seems improbable that such a conflagration could originate from sparks. The grass and sod along the road is very dry, and it is possible that the match made last summer ignited the fire to the wood. A few days ago over one hundred and fifty thousand cords of wood on that road were destroyed by fire, but being farther away from the road, no damage resulted to the track.—Columbus Statesman, 31st.

MARRIED, DIVORCED, AND RE-MARRIED.—A friend who read the story of an extraordinary marriage in Indiana, last week, sends us the following as a "companion picture":

Some time about the period of the last war between this country and England, a clergyman, then settled in Cohasset, was arraigned before his society on a charge of adultery, and the proofs were so strong that he was dismissed from his pastorate, and he was obliged to leave the country, leaving Cohasset he went into Connecticut, where he settled and again married. His former wife also married again—this time selecting a respectable farmer in the town of Marshall for a husband. Years passed, and the clergyman became a widower, and his first wife also buried her husband. These matters remained until nearly thirty years had elapsed, when the clergyman paid a visit to Marshall, and, meeting his former wife, then a widow, he prevailed upon her to forgive and forget the past, which she did, whereupon they both started for Kingston and were married.

GENTLEMEN: The crop of tobacco planted in this country is very small, perhaps not half what is generally set out. This fact, together with the very dry and hot summer thus far, makes much against raising a good article of Mason county tobacco the present year. Yours, truly, GEO. GREEN.

SIMMS ELECTED!!

The latest intelligence received at this office indicates the election of Capt. Wm. E. Simms to the Congress of the United States by about 50 majority. This news is the more gratifying, inasmuch as that received last evening cast a doubt over the result, and led to alarming apprehensions of defeat. But as usual with our election returns, the official figures came up favorably to the success of the Democracy and contradicted the hundred false rumors the Opposition inaugurated for effect. We have rarely seen so much such deep, heartfelt joy, at an election result, as is depicted upon the faces of our Democratic friends here. Their warm congratulations with those who came to our city from other counties for the "latest news," show that the triumphant election of our gallant standard bearer will give to the whole party the most intense pleasure.

As a party victory, the result cannot be overestimated in its importance. It is a triumph over a factious Opposition which sought to disaffect the South and leave the country an easy prey to the rapacious sectionalists who would subordinate laws, constitutions, and rights to their prejudice and passions. It is a victory of Democratic principles over mere opposition. In its national bearing it will serve to strengthen the Southern party in the struggle with Republicanism in 1860. It is a proclamation from the men of the A-land District that they know the real issue before the country and have taken their position.

Nor could the Democracy have selected one more worthy to be their leader in such a contest than he who has now the honor to represent this district in the next Congress. Called by his party into the field, he stepped forth bold, intrepid, and resolute. Unwieldy by personal responsibilities, undaunted by the desperate exertions of his opponents, and undismayed by the low and cunning resorts used against him, he battled for the cause intrusted to him with an energy, an ability, and a zeal which even his fondest admirers had not ascribed him. He has done his duty, his whole heart and soul, and nobly deserves the honors of that success now achieved. His friends rallied to him with great zeal; he deserved their support, merited their aid, and is worthy their confidence. To his own worth, and its appreciation by his friends, the result is partly attributable. The truth of his cause enabled him to succeed. Well may he be proud of such a party, and the party may well be proud of such a leader.

The City.

It will be seen by the official tables that the city of Lexington has given a slightly increased majority against the Democratic candidate for Congress. This result when compared with that of our last municipal election may create some surprise, and yet it is susceptible of very clear explanation. A number of gentlemen voted in the City Districts who reside in the county, but are indulged with a special permit from the County Judge. How far this affected the result we can not say, but presume very little. The prominent cause, however, to which we ascribe this falling off, is the unfair and illegal exclusion of voters by the Judges of the election. Ultra partisans were selected to interrogate the voters, and we have never heard examinations conducted so unfairly and with so much partial feeling. The voter was questioned, cross-questioned, re-examined and when admitted to vote much reluctance was shown by those who should have been free in decision and as far as possible liberal in feeling. Not only this, but men were excluded who were as legal voters as any of those whose names are upon the poll books. A sweeping announcement adverse to all who worked outside this district, though resident within it, was made, and thereby a large number of legal voters disfranchised. These facts are notorious and of themselves sufficient to explain the result. We are not in the habit of apologizing for or explaining any disastrous results, but in this case we can not omit this public reference to the course of our opponents.—Lex. States.

The New Post of Friday says:

An ingenious dodge of the counterfeiter was detected yesterday in the uncurrent money department of the Metropolitan Bank. Good one dollar bills of various banks are mutilated by taking out the name of the bank, which is afterwards pasted on tens and twenties of broken banks. The bill thus manufactured being composed of parts of genuine bills is dangerous, the process of pasting being neatly done. Operations, as far as discovered, have been confined to the bills of the Seventh Ward Bank of this city; Unadilla Bank, Unadilla; Flour City Bank, Rochester; and State of New York Bank, Kingston.

Peace Rejoicings in Paris.

It seems certain that the news of the peace caused great joy in Paris. A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says:

I must do the Parisians the justice to say that on this occasion, when all seemed to vie with each other in decking their windows, their porches, their house-tops and their balconies with banners and many colored lamps, for an impromptu illumination, that the signs of joy and gratulation were infinitely more unqualified than on any previous occasion when mere victory was the object of it.

HEALTH OF NEW ORLEANS.—The health of the city continues extraordinarily excellent. Our sanitary condition is as good as that of any other metropolis having the same population on the continent; and the indications are, that we shall be continually blessed throughout the season. We have not heard of a single case of yellow fever in the Charity Hospital, or in private practice, and this is the 25th of July. The first two summer months are nearly gone, and no sickness. Crescent, July 25th.

A difficulty took place yesterday at Boston, Nelson county, between a man named Burnes and a man by the name of Smith, which resulted in the death of the former. Smith stabbed Burnes near the collar bone, from which he died in a few minutes. Our informant did not learn whether Smith had been arrested, or not. Burnes had no family.—Lon. Jour., 2d.

LIFE'S INEVITABILITIES.—What is the use of it? Do not worry yourself to death about what other people may say of you, as long as you know that it is not true. Take care of the truth; that is your business. All falsehoods go to the bosom of their father the devil, and their framers soon follow.

OFFICIAL.
State of Kentucky, County of Whitley.

J. JAMES CUTBERTH, Jailer of Whitley county, do hereby certify that on the 14th day of June, 1859, a certain slave, named John, was delivered to me by order of L. D.

Sutton, County Judge of Whitley county, which he was bound to serve for a term of years, and to be kept and to pay all costs, fees, and taxes, and to be allowed by law, and if this is not done within six months, and if this is not done within six months, and the proceeds of said sale disposed of as required by law.

Given under my hand, this 14th day of June, 1859.

Description.

Said boy is five feet six inches high, weighs 145 pounds, slender built, of a dark complexion, and color, the end of his nose on his left foot has been cut off, and he is unable to walk, and he belongs to John Coleman, a white slave, and retail merchant living in the city of Charleston, South Carolina.

JAMES CUTBERTH,
Jailer Whitley County, Kentucky.

Notice to the Holders of Kentucky State Bonds.

WHEREAS, by an act approved 1st of March,

1841, $100,000 of the bonds of the State of Kentucky, bearing date 1st January, 1840, and payable on the 1st day of January, 1859, were issued in the city of New York, thirty years from the date thereof; and that, on the face of said bonds, reserved the power to redeem the principal sum at her pleasure, at any time after the expiration of five years from the date thereof, which period will expire on the 1st day of January, 1869, it is hereby given that the money will be deposited in the Bank of America in the city of New York, to pay said bonds on that day, and from and after that day

no interest will be paid on said bonds.

And whereas, $200,000 of bonds were issued under an act of the Legislature of the State of Kentucky, approved 23d, 1840, and March 1st, 1841, and payable on the 1st day of January, 1859, and with a similar privilege reserved on the face of said bonds to pay at the end of fifteen years, notice is hereby given that the money will be deposited in the Bank of America, New York, at the end of fifteen years from the date thereof, and after that day

no interest will be paid thereon.

By the Governor, C. S. MOREHEAD,
Governor and Chairman of Commissioners.

MASON BROWN, Secretary of State.
